Rebate debate

Forest owners supported by reluctant allies

by Jerry Grozelle

Brush Fire: Minden firefighters were called out last Tuesday to control a brush fire at Camp Onondaga. Fanned by light winds, the fire spread about 300 yards up a steep hill from the ignition point where workers were burning brush. Teams of firefighters worked quickly with shovels and water packs to get control of the perimeter while others rigged up the pumper to douse the burning embers. The dry spring weather has created ideal conditions for the rapid spread of fires. The workers did have a permit for their small brush fire.

The SIRCH is on for new property

by Russ Duhaime

The search is on again for a suitable location for a women's emergency house in Haliburton County.

The project, which was geared up for an immediate construction start, ran into a major snag last week when neighbours sounded the alarm about the perceived risks of having this project in their neighbourhood.

The owners of the property on George Street in Haliburton then decided to back away from the sale. Dysart Township Council also advised that any site chosen for this project will first have to be rezoned to a special residential designation.

The project, which has seen unprecedented support from residents throughout the county, fell apart in a matter of hours. Organizers were ironing out the final details in the purchase agreement for the land and more than 100 volunteers had signed

The Haliburton Forest Owners Association (HFOA) has taken up gambling, and it has an ace up its sleeve. If the HFOA plays that ace, it could have a devastating effect on the economy of Haliburton County.

In an attempt to convince Natural Resources Minister Howard Hampton to restore the Managed Forest Tax Rebate Program, the HFOA is threatening to lock its gates to snowmobile trails, Nordic skiing, hiking and other recreational activities.

The snowmobilers, skiers, hikers and others would survive those tactics, but the big question is, would the business people who depend on those recreation dollars be able to survive?

The forest owners are hoping that by playing that ace, they will create a ripple effect across the province, with Haliburton County at the epicenter.

HFOA officials held a meeting at PineStone last Thursday evening to call attention to their plight. They say cancellation of the tax rebate program will have a dramatic effect on their realty taxes. As it stands, they point out, forest land is assessed at the same as residential land, regardless of whether or not the owners plan to develop the property. It is the potential for development that is being taxed, they say.

For the past 20 years the various governments have provided a rebate on taxes to forest land owners, as an incentive to keep as much of the privately-owned forest land as possible from being developed.

Hampton has decided, for economic reasons, to eliminate the rebate. This has the forest owners seeing red. Projected provincial rebate figures for the 1993 tax year amounted to $3.8-million. No figures specifically for Haliburton were available.

Peter Schleifenbaum, managing director of the HFOA and a stakeholder in the 48,000-acre Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve, told the audience of about 140 people that the decision to deny access to forest owners' property was a desperation measure since all other avenues have been exhausted.

He defended the tactic, saying: "The government only understands rough persuasion."

He said he met face-to-face with Hampton and during the 90-minute meeting, Hampton admitted that the decision wasn't fair.

"But he said there was nothing he could do about it," Schleifenbaum said.

Harry Barr, President of the Ontario Woodlot and Sawmill Operators' Association, came over from Lanark County (near Ottawa) to offer some insight and support from his association's perspective.

Support for the forest owners from all fronts was strong. The PineStone provided its ball room for the meeting and Anne Larcade indicated that the resort's support will continue. The 3,000-plus membership HCSA has pledged its support; the Ontario Woodlot and Sawmill Owners Association is behind them; and several businesses represented at the meeting offered assistance to the cause.

Some, like the snowmobile association, were reluctant

Donations flow from Minden council

The following items were briefly addressed at the April 14 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council.

Liquor Licence

Council supported a liquor licence application by Elizabeth Soltermann of MB's Country Inns Limited, the former Dominion Hotel.

The building is being converted to a dining room and lounge. She told council there would be no live entertainment.

Tractor Tender

Council accepted the tender of Callaghan Farm Supply for an Agco Allis 6670 AWD tractor. Callaghan's bid was the lowest received at $45,425, including taxes.

The 63 PTO horsepower all-wheel-drive tractor, which is equipped with a loader and cab, will be used mainly for sweeping and grass cutting.

New Phones

A new telephone system was approved for the Municipal Office, with the contract going to Able Office Equipment of Peterborough.

The old Bell system had become inadequate, with only eight lines available. The new Toshiba Strata system has the capability of as many as 48 lines. The system was installed the day after the tender was accepted.

Briefly

Minden Council Notes

Municipality Public Works Superintendent Clayton Cameron contacted users of both telephone systems and reported his findings to council. Cameron wouldn't mention the names of the private companies he talked to about their telephones but he said the County Office recently had a new Bell system installed and they didn't have much good to say about it.

"They said they would rather have the old system back," Cameron told council.

Able is also providing photocopier and fax equipment.

Donation

Council decided to donate $200 to Minden Minor Hockey to help offset the cost of the rental of the hall for the annual banquet.

Carnival Reserve

Council passed a resolution to establish a Minden Winter Carnival Reserve Account. Transfers of $5,253.85 were authorized.

Flower Show Grant

The Horticultural Society received a $445 grant from the municipality to be used for the rental of the Community Centre for the 15th annual Flower Show. The show will be held on August 10, 11 and 12.

Scout Grant

The Minden Boy Scouts will get some financial help from council. A $224.70 grant will be used for the facility rental for the annual banquet, which is slated for June 1.

Councillor Jeanne Anthon and Reeve Bern Berry will attend the banquet on behalf of AHM Council.

Commendation

Public Works Superintendent Clayton Cameron was on the receiving end of Reeve Berry's praise.

"I'd like to reflect Council's gratitude," Berry said. "We certainly appreciate your effort in securing an additional $127,000 in additional funds for the waterworks project."

New Co-ordinator

Barbara LeBlanc of Norland has been hired as part-time Co-ordinator of the County Town Museum.

Toll-free screening

Funded by the Ministry of Health, a toll-free number for Ontario residents has been set up to connect women over the age of 50 with their nearest breast screening clinic.

There is no charge for the service. A woman can make her own appointment or be referred by her physician. Screening results are provided in writing to each woman and her physician within two weeks of her screening visit.

Centres are located in Hamilton, Kingston, London, Ottawa, Sudbury, Toronto and Windsor. For information about a clinic in your region, call 1-800-668-9304.

Many service agencies in Haliburton County require the assistance of volunteers to help run their programs on a continuing basis or short-term for special projects. The Haliburton County Information Centre can offer many suggestions as to where your help can best be utilized.

In Haliburton, the office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building on Maple Avenue and is open weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (phone 457-2733). In Minden, the centre located in the municipal building on Milne St. is open every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (286-4100).

WOMEN'S EMERGENCY HOUSE

Yes! We Are Still Going to Build!

Due to a change in zoning requirements as well as title problems with the property we had hoped to purchase, S.I.R.C.H. has been forced to seek a new home for the Women's Emergency House.

Unfortunately, this means we need to reschedule construction to a later date.

We are committed and optimistic that Women's Emergency House will be built in the very near future.

We will be holding community meetings next week to discuss the project and our plans.

Meetings will be held on:

Wednesday, April 27, 1994
Minden Council Chambers, 7 p.m.

Thursday, April 28, 1994
Wilberforce Community Centre, 1 p.m.

Thursday, April 28, 1994
Haliburton Home Support Services meeting room,
Echo Hills Apartments, 7 p.m.

We need your continued support ... this will happen!

If you have any questions or would like further information about the Women's Emergency House project, please call Jude King at 457-1742.

Tony and Ruth Samarillo hold a framed copy of the Daily Mail and Empire from November 11, 1918. The headline announced the end of World War One. Branch 636 curator, Art Jones, right, accepted the donation on behalf of the local Legion

Front Page News:

Historic edition of the Daily Mail and Empire is added to collection

The western world is familiar with the significance of the date November 11, 1918. However, the number of people who can remember the exhilaration the end of the First World War brought to their lives 76 years ago, is rapidly dwindling.

A small taste of the impact of that day in 1918 can now be experienced in the growing collection of memorabilia at the Minden Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. The latest addition is the front page of the Toronto newspaper the Daily Mail and Empire, from that historical date.

The newspaper has been donated to the Legion by former branch president Tony Samarillo and his wife Ruth. The memento of the end of the war was discovered in Ruth's mother's house in Carnarvon. The Samarillos uncovered the newspaper after moving to the community to be with her mother, Vera Harrison (Taylor).

While helping to straighten up some of her possessions, they came across the November 11 edition of the Daily Mail and Empire (which has since evolved into the Globe and Mail). It was carefully tucked away with the thought it would be an important keepsake. Sometime later Tony became involved in the establishment of the Minden Branch of the Legion and was elected its first president. With the purchase of a hall, and the growing membership, the branch started to acquire a collection of memorabilia and historical items from the war years. Legion member Art Jones serves as the branch's curator.

Tony and Ruth felt the newspaper would make an important addition to the collection and the curator agreed. The newspaper has been placed in a sealed frame, held away from the non-glare glass by double mats. The framing was carried out by Vimy Ridge Gallery in Buckhorn. As the name implies, the gallery specializes in war memorabilia.

The newspaper will hang in the main lounge at the branch, right next to the fireplace, where members and visitors alike can capture a bit of the feeling the world must have experienced on November 11, 1918, when "the war to end all wars" came to a conclusion.

Forest access essential for tourism growth

tant allies because of what they stand to lose by not working with the forest owners to resolve the problem.

One member of the HCSA said after the meeting: "Basically, they (the forest owners) are holding the HCSA for ransom. We have to support them. We've got everything to lose and everything to gain."

Dennis Casey of Birch Point Lodge indicated his displeasure in the way the situation was being handled. He pointed out that closing snowmobile trails would have a devastating effect that would impact more than just the snowmobilers. He questioned the logic of potentially sacrificing the economy of the area to get their point across.

"You have to understand the impact on Haliburton County in terms of jobs," Casey said.

Bill Valentine suggested that the problem may go away on its own.

"These dumb maniacs in Queen's Park can't last much longer," he elaborated.

Haliburton County Warden Jim McMahon addressed the audience in support of the forest owners. McMahon said that County Council passed a resolution in February, petitioning the ministry to reinstate the rebate program but he had reservations about the effectiveness of the county's correspondence.

"In all honesty, I'll bet you that the minister doesn't even see this letter," McMahon said. "We're dealing with a very dangerous bunch of people with this NDP government."

He said that the Ministry of Tourism is trying to promote tourism in the area and Hampton is trying to shut it down.

The objectives of the meeting at PineStone were to inform the community of the implications of present property assessment and its impact on rural Ontario; to muster support to help achieve both the short-term and long-term goals; and to initiate the formation of a Strategy and Co-ordination Committee of concerned stakeholders.

The short-term goal of the forest owners is the reinstatement of the forest tax rebate. In the long term, they want to see forest land classified the same as farm land for the purpose of tax assessment.

The objectives of the April 21 meetings were met. Now they have to present a united front to the ministry in an attempt to bring about the changes they are seeking. The challenge is to meet the goals before the stated deadline of November 1, which is the date they say the gates will be locked if Hampton doesn't back down.

"It isn't a problem that we can solve locally," said Godfrey Tyler, spokesman for the forest owners and moderator of the meeting. "We have to let the government know that forests are a very important part of the community."

Adversity builds determination for SIRCH

The ideal for the project was to get people together to build with their hands and build with their hearts. This is a crucial component of what we want.

on to help build the home.

When George Street residents discovered their neighbourhood was the chosen location for the home, a petition was launched to drive it out of their midst.

"It's very unfortunate," said project co-ordinator Jude King, addressing a group of about 30 volunteers at a special meeting in Minden on Thursday.

"I think we've all had a lot of late nights over the last week trying to sort this thing out."

It has been an incredibly frustrating ordeal for the SIRCH committee which is spearheading the project. Yet, in spite of everything, they're not about to throw in the towel.

When things began falling apart, King said she was worried it would be an overwhelming setback. Not only would they have to find a new location, but the delay will push the project start back into the summer, when volunteers from the construction trades are facing a heavy work load.

"When all this started, I thought we'd have to go back to October," said King. "I couldn't bear the thought of that."

The strong turnout at Thursday's meeting was a good indication that volunteers are still behind the project. If necessary, organizers say, the construction schedule can be altered to better accommodate the volunteers.

Initial plans called for the construction to be completed within one week. With this delay, however, the schedule could be shifted to four week-ends of work. Basically, SIRCH is prepared to do whatever it takes to get this project up and going.

For the time being, SIRCH will again focus its attention on securing a location for the house. King said the ideal property will be in a residential area relatively close to police services.

The possibility of buying an existing house has been ruled out because this option lacks an important ingredient, said King.

"The ideal for the project was to get people together to build with their hands and build with their hearts." She said this sort of visible demonstration of support sends out a message to those women who may find themselves in need of a safe house. It lets them know they are not alone, she said. It shows that this is a caring community which is determined to support its neighbours.

The volunteer involvement in this project is "a crucial component of what we want," said King.

Once the emergency house is built, it will provide refuge for women and children who are victims of abuse. It will accommodate just one family at a time for up to three weeks, allowing them to make arrangements for the future. It will also be staffed around the clock by at least two volunteers.

In regard to the risk of this facility to heighten violence in a neighbourhood, SIRCH members say there is none. Violence and abuse exist in every neighbourhood. This house is a stepping stone for people who have the courage to escape.

Unfounded fear is blamed for the delay. To ensure this does not happen again, SIRCH is immediately staging three community meetings, where they will provide information and answer any questions. The first meeting is this Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Minden Council chambers. A second meeting will be held at the Wilberforce Community Centre on Thursday at 1 p.m. The final meeting will be in Haliburton at the Home Support Services meeting room (Echo Hills Apartments) this Thursday at 7 p.m.

"Our staff is mainly family, so we all live locally and work together as a family. People in our community seem to appreciate that."

A candid talk about family and funeral service with the Monk Family.

"At Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, we like to think of ourselves as a family 'team' with each person on the team diligently trying to give his or her best at all times.

"Part of being a family team is being able to understand the different needs of our families—from a family perspective. Families have different faiths, lifestyles, and financial capabilities. And each family member experiences the loss of a loved one in different ways. We always tailor our services to meet individual family preferences. And we always provide personal attention to each individual family member as it is needed. We do not have one standard of service or care that everybody gets.

"We are fortunate to be in a small town where we frequently see the people we serve. Just the words 'Thank you' or 'You have certainly helped' give us a great sense of satisfaction. The appreciation we get from others encourages us to continue giving our best. From our family to yours."

Minden WI selects new officers

by Jeanne Sears

President of Minden Women's Institute Jean Lacey, welcomed thirteen members on April 23 at the Library/Cultural Centre after the usual opening.

Annual reports were given by treasurer Annie Kenohan, card convenor Irene Moore, programme convenor, P.R.O. and the curator. $38.55 was taken in on our monthly penny collection and card fund and pennies for friendship were also collected. Irene Moore had a busy month, having sent 24 cards since the last meeting.

We received an invitation to Burnt River branch and seven cars will take members on April 29. There is to be an officers' training session at the Ag Office in Lindsay, but no one will attend from our branch.

Several craft articles were on display - we do have some clever people in our branch.

The election of officers took place with Doris Grant in charge. We did not have a full slate of officers so this will be given later. Mary Cox acted as secretary for the election. We heard two readings from Jeanne Sears which were enjoyed by everyone. In keeping with Earth Day on April 22 one of the readings was "Trees".

After the adjournment a draw was made for a small gift and the winner was Jean Lacey. A social hour was enjoyed by everyone, with snacks served by the committee. The next meeting will be held at the Library/Cultural Centre on May 18 at 2 p.m. All interested ladies are welcome to attend.

TVOntario TVOntario and your future

by Susan Wilson

In the last column earlier this month, I talked about the many reasons why getting access to the TVOntario signal is important to this area — adult education, children's education, seniors' issues, the arts community, quality of life — and said that we would explore each of these areas over the next several columns. Let's start with adult education and look at how TVOntario can help us get the education and training we need to get and keep a job — or get a better job.

On April 8th, I attended the spring meeting of TVO's Southcentral Regional Council. The guest speaker was Rita Karakas, Creative Head of the network's Distance Learning Division. Karakas is a dynamic, ebullient woman who is utterly committed to making it possible for her viewers to get the academic upgrading, skills training, and professional accreditation they need to get and keep their jobs, or to qualify for promotion, or to get a better job with another company. To this end, her division is using every means available to create programs and distribute them to people where they live.

For instance, through TVO you can take university and college courses for credit, complete with a personal tutor, comprehensive study guides, videotapes, audiotapes, teleconferences, and even computer programs — if you can get the TVO signal.

Adults wanting to complete their high school education can go back to school by going to the television set and tuning into the TVO's High School of the Air — if they can get the TVO signal.

Professionals in many areas — education, real estate, construction, and more — can take the courses they need for accreditation in their industries — if they can get the TVO signal. Companies can plug into TVOntario's Skills Training service and have their staff learn as a group — if they can get the TVO signal.

The advantages of distance learning are many. It recognizes that the classroom isn't the best place for everyone to learn. It saves the time and expense of travel. Through the magic of the VCR, classes can be taken at a time convenient to the student. Doing make-up is easy too, just tape the program and view it when you want — and watch each class as many times as you want. People with special needs can be accommodated in their own homes. Closed captioning can be provided. Interactive Learning, which combines direct live programming (some of it through satellite uplinks) with existing video learning systems, adds new dimensions to the power of your television set.

But of course, this is only true if you can get the TVO signal. Most of the people in our area can't.

Life-long learning is more than just another buzz word. It's an attitude we all have to adopt in order to take advantage of the inevitable changes facing us every day. That our corner of the province, with an unemployment rate exceeding 30 per cent, should not have access to these services, which virtually all the rest of the province takes for granted, is unacceptable. Especially when these are services that can help us help ourselves. Especially when these are services we're paying for but can't receive. Getting access to the TVOntario signal is not a frill! It's a necessity.

Next time, we'll look at why TVO is equally important for our children. (A "PS" to parents and teachers: Education Week starts May 2nd and TVO will have a number of special programs on education on Monday 4th and 5th.)

Program Highlights:

Heartbeat, Britain's top-rated drama series, continues on Fridays in May at 9:00 p.m. This 20-part series, set in the fictional Yorkshire village of Aidensfield, is based on the best-selling Constable books by Nicholas Rhea. His chief protagonists are the new village bobby, Nick Rowan, and his doctor wife, Kate. The Rowans have traded life in London for what they hope is a more peaceful existence. But no.

The Good Sex Guide, which was such a smash hit when it aired on TVO last September, is returning. The rebroadcast of the series begins Wednesday, May 4th, at 10:00 p.m. and continues for the following six weeks.

Susan Wilson represents Haliburton County on TVOntario's Southcentral Regional Council. If you would like to help get access to the TVO signal or have any other comments, call her at 286-6009. This column appears every four weeks.

Determination

There has been a lot of finger pointing going on since the emergency house project ran into delays last week, but laying blame in this situation is both pointless and unproductive.

The project, which was scheduled to begin construction next week, hit a major road block when a few people discovered the house would be located in their neighbourhood. This discovery led to a withdrawal of the sale offer by the landowner, forcing SIRCH (Supportive Initiatives for Residents in the County of Haliburton) to postpone its plans until another property can be secured. Further compounding matters is the advice from Dysart Council that any location in the municipality will have to be rezoned for this specific use.

It all happened so quickly, and so late in the process, that everyone involved has been scrambling to figure out what is going on and who is at fault.

The neighbours who scuttled the project have been blamed for reacting with fear to a project that should not pose any additional risk to their neighbourhood. Whether or not their fears are founded in fact, however, is beside the point. Their fears are real and they have the right to try to protect themselves.

Dysart Council has been blamed for pulling its support for the project by requiring a rezoning of any potential site in the municipality. Council, however, is simply acting on the advice of its lawyer. Council has an obligation to all residents of the municipality to ensure that development proceeds in a controlled manner. Individual councillors are not experts in the field, and are therefore bound to heed the advice provided by their lawyer.

SIRCH has been accused of acting in a secretive manner for not divulging the proposed location of the emergency house. SIRCH, however, maintains there was nothing secretive about its actions. Terms of the sale were still being negotiated and until that was settled it would be unwise to announce the location. If SIRCH is guilty of anything, it's that it didn't anticipate this reaction and take measures to keep a tighter lid on things until the sale was finalized.

What has happened is unfortunate and extremely frustrating, but it's not the end of this valuable project. SIRCH has expressed its determination to push on and get the house built. Most of the volunteers who signed on to help build the house are understanding of the delay and will surely be out in force when a new location is found. The community at large is acutely aware of the need for an emergency house and is ready to offer whatever support is necessary to make it a reality.

The delay is certainly unfortunate, but it is not an indication of a lack of support. Women and children who are enduring life in abusive relationships can take comfort in the fact that this community is determined to provide a means of escape.

It's time now to stop pointing fingers and get on with the task at hand -- providing tangible support for women and children leaving abusive relationships.

Walk supports community health

by Kathy Sweeney

One rural community reaching out to help another rural community — that's what HAVE's Walk for Water is all about. In these days of cutbacks and restraints, there is sometimes a tendency for us to forget how lucky we are. Here in Haliburton County we are fortunate enough to live in a community of caring people — people who are willing to donate their time by walking, others who are willing to sponsor the walkers, and still others who donate food, supplies, and services.

Over the past ten years, the people of this community have demonstrated their desire and ability to reach out to those who are less fortunate by supporting HAVE's annual Walk for Water. This local generosity has contributed greatly to the drilling of over 100 wells in villages throughout India, to water pipeline projects in northern India and Nicaragua, to eight wells dug in the Gambia, and to the implementation of health care and educational programs; all of which are aimed at empowering other to achieve a standard of living that includes some of the basic privileges we so often take for granted.

HAVE monitors each project to ensure that the work is progressing at current sites and existing water systems are being maintained.

On Saturday, June 4, Help A Village Effort will be celebrating its 11th annual Walk for Water. The walk begins at Haliburton's Rotary Park at 9:00 a.m. and follows a 10 km route along Lake Kashagawigamog, followed by food, foot massages, and entertainment. Walk sponsor forms will be available at the Minden Chamber of Commerce Tourist Info Centre, at Gift House North, and Video City in Haliburton, and at local churches. Every dollar pledged is allocated directly to HAVE projects and, together with government funding, enables more rural people to enjoy the far-reaching benefits of safe drinking water.

On behalf of the HAVE Committee, I would like to thank all of those who have shown support in the past and invite everyone to continue supporting the tradition of walking for water by joining us at the Haliburton Rotary Park on Saturday, June 4.

Burial business rife with absurdities

I just got back from Florida . . . and I'm not bragging.

It wasn't that great. The weather was bleh, the beach was mined with nasty little jellyfish, the shopping was no great shakes (unless you were looking for a deal in sequined T shirts) and the traffic was worthy of downtown Toronto after a Blue Jays doubleheader.

Ah, but I wouldn't have missed it for the world. Because one day when I was sitting in the coffee shop I picked up a copy of the Boca Raton Bugle.

And read about the funeral service for a Cadillac convertible.

Yessir! those Americans, God bless 'em, buried a Cadillac Coup de Ville last month — presiding minister, assembly of graveside mourners — the whole enchilada.

And just to give the ceremony that extra dash of authenticity, they made sure the owner was in the front seat.

Relax, she was dead. As a matter of fact, the woman who owned the Caddy was the real subject of the funeral. Her dying wish was to be buried in her beloved Cadillac. America, Land of Opportunity, obliged.

Not that the Yanks have got a lock on bizarre burials. The Russians, after all, packed the carcass of Vladimir Lenin with rock salt and kept it on public display for 70 years after his death.

Then there's Jeremy Bentham. The English Philosopher, who died in 1832, willed his entire estate to London Hospital . . . with one provision. Bentham's will insisted that his preserved remains be permitted to preside over all hospital board meetings. The hospital agreed, Bentham's skeleton was assembled with wires to hold the bones together. The skull was fitted out with a wax mask of the philosopher's face. The "body" was decked out in Jeremy Bentham's favourite clothes, plopped in an armchair and set in a glass-fronted mahogany case.

To make sure no one was confused, a placard that read "not voting" was placed in front of him.

I think old Jeremy did very well, considering that cremation was not the popular option it is today. Rendering an unwieldy cadaver down to a shot glass full of ashes greatly increases the choices for creative disposal.

Nowadays folks can direct that their ashes be scattered at sea, sprinkled over a golf course or dug into the vegetable garden.

There was a chap in England who willed his ashes to be placed in his favourite bar stool.

And for avid hunters who bite the bullet, there's an entrepreneur in the States who will tamp your ashes into shotgun shells and deliver them to your hunting buddies, who can then blast them reverentially over your favourite hunting area.

There may be a whole new growth industry here. Death 'N Stuff Inc. Or perhaps Stiffs R Us. I know there's already a free enterprise spin to the morgue in Houston, Texas.

It's a gift shop. Right in the morgue. Folks can buy such grisly gizmos as personalized toe tags, or T shirts and beach towels that feature chalk body outlines.

Sort of a coroner store, as it were.

Sound absurd? Well, it's no sillier than most of our bizarre burial practices when you think about it.

Reminds me of the story about a Canadian visiting a cemetery to put flowers on his parents' grave. While he's there he can't help noticing an old Chinese man placing a bowl of soup on the grave of one of his dearly departed.

Unable to conceal his derision, the Canadian sneers, "When do you think your friend will be up to eat the soup?"

The Chinese murmurs softly, "About the same time your friends show up to smell the flowers."

There may be a whole new growth industry here. There's already a free enterprise spin to the morgue in Houston, Texas. It's a gift shop, right in the morgue. Folks can buy personalized toe tags, or T shirts and beach towels that feature chalk body outlines.

SIRCH needs widespread support for women's shelter

Editor

This is a copy of a letter sent to Mr. Curry Bishop, Reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al.)

Dear Mr. Bishop,

I was quite dismayed to hear that several residents have recently launched a petition voicing their objection to the location of the S.I.R.C.H. Emergency House. As much as we may hate to admit it, this shelter is desperately needed in our county. Many people have contributed much to this project, and countless more are keen to take part in this community endeavour. I do hope that the unsubstantiated fears of a few will not hinder the building of this home.

Perhaps I can allay some concerns. This house will provide a calm, and safe haven for women and children who need to get away from potentially hazardous situations. Some particularly violent cases will require the woman to leave our county, seeking refuge in Peterborough or Lindsay. Please put some trust in the professionals who deal with this abuse on a daily basis. They want what is best for the clients and the community; their aim is not to incite violence, but rather to defuse it.

I urge you to voice your support for the building of this house, and for its location. Please do not succumb to any pressure to rescind the building permit. Too much hard work has gone into this project thus far to allow it to be thwarted by a fearful and closed-minded few.

Your sincerely,
Martha J. Steen

On the Street

by Times Staff

There is a general buoyancy in the business community that hasn't been felt for a number of years. Each spring brings with it the promise of fresh beginnings and a new, "brighter future" attitude. Over the past couple of years that outlook has been muted or altogether missing. It is great to feel it back in the business community and to see what a difference it makes. The lessons learned over the last three years, however, are still fresh. Cautious optimism seems to be the catch-phrase that captures the mood of our business community as it looks ahead.

GENERAL LEE'S

We note the Minden General Lee's take-out is closing at the end of this month. Ken and Marg Fielding announced the news just last week. The couple started with the Dixie Lee franchise 14 years ago and quickly opened a Haliburton store to meet the steady demand for deep fried chicken and other menu selections. About eight years ago the couple struck out on their own, withdrawing from the Dixie Lee system and renaming their two outlets. Since then the Haliburton restaurant has been sold and the Minden building was rebuilt to accommodate the Subway submarine franchise. The Subway outlet, under the ownership of Jerry and Kim Campbell, is due to open soon. The space occupied by General Lee's will be converted into a bakery under the ownership of Jody Joanu...more on that later. We wish good luck to Ken and Marg.

CHET AUTOMOTIVE

Charlie and Ethel Muli have opened an automobile service facility on Highway 35, just north of Minden. The couple is well-known in the community as owners of Frontier Motors, which operated in the community from 1974 until last year. Chet Automotive is located in the former Frontier Motors service centre.

MOYNES FURNITURE

It didn't take long for the word to spread through the community that Moynes Furniture was closing its doors. Even before the newspaper hit the street with the closing out sale notice, customers and friends were dropping in to get the word first hand from owners Mary and Reg Raby. Since then there has been a steady stream of people through the store to wish them well. Congratulations to Westside Jug City on its purchase of the Moynes building. The building at the corner of Highway 35 and Main Street will be used as the company's head office and wholesale warehouse, supplying their chain of stores.

TOWN AUTO GLASS

Another new business has opened its doors in Minden. Town Auto Glass has moved into the building next to Ridgewood Ford, directly across Highway 35 from the Prince Street exit. Congratulations and welcome to the new owners, Bob and Carol Chambers and manager John Harding.

MABA

The Minden Area Business Association (MABA) has elected its first slate of officers. Congratulations to the chairman Gary Bloor of Minden Taxi, co-chairman Rick Tustin of Red Umbrella Inn, secretary Dale Merrill and treasurer France Rochat both of Nashville North. The officers were elected at a meeting held April 17 at Red Umbrella Inn. The association has a number of projects on the go, including the design and installation of two new decorative signs to welcome visitors to Minden. A contest for the design of the signs has been created to stimulate community interest. For more information on the contest see the MABA report on page 20 of today's edition of The Times. The next meeting of the association is scheduled for Wednesday May 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the board room, lower level, Heritage Plaza.

Emergency house project deserves full support from Dysart Council

Editor,

A copy of the following letter was sent to Curry Bishop, the Reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al.

Dear Mr. Bishop,

I understand that since the announcement of the location for the S.I.R.C.H. Emergency House, some local residents and potential neighbours have made their opposition known through petitions and phone calls, and that subsequent to this protest the municipality has revoked the building permit for the house. If this is not the case, I hope you will promptly announce the municipality's full support for this facility which is so badly needed in our community.

Right now, if a woman and her children wish to leave an abusive home, they must either travel to shelters in Lindsay or Peterborough, or, if possible, seek shelter with family and friends in our area. If a woman must leave town, she has to take her children out of school and away from their friends and activities, she has to leave her job, she is away from the support of friends and local counsellors; she will find it very difficult to establish a new home in the county. Now, if she is in physical danger from her partner, and at risk of being pursued, she must leave town for her own safety. The shelters in Lindsay and Peterborough are better equipped to protect a woman from a violent attacker.

But most abusers are not gun-toting, homicidal, drunken maniacs. One of the reasons we need this facility is that so many "normal" families experience abuse or assault. If a woman is not judged to be at serious risk (in her opinion and that of trained, experienced counsellors) then she should be able to simply leave her home, and have a few weeks respite during which she may talk to the police, lawyers, counsellors, or maybe just have some peace to consider what to do next. That peaceful atmosphere will be provided in a house with a security system, trained volunteers, police watchfulness, and supportive neighbours. Emergency House is not appropriate for every woman in an abusive relationship, but it will provide an important service to many women in our community...if we can find a place to build it.

It is unfortunate that some people in Haliburton have responded to the announcement of the location with the predictable, "Not in my backyard!" reaction. No one opposed the building of Emergency House until someone found out it would be next door. Hundreds of people are donating money, materials and labour to construct this house. Rotarians, Kinsmen, teachers, Girl Guides, and many church groups (to name only a few organizations) are donating appliances or holding fund raisers or sewing quilts or decorating the children's bedroom or feeding the volunteer building crew. Haliburton County believes in this house.

I hope the neighbours will reconsider their opposition. The risk to their property values is practically nonexistent; the risk to their peace and safety is minimal because women in danger will still be referred out of town. Today in Haliburton County if a woman wants to leave an abusive partner but does not want to leave our community, she must try to find a place with family or friends. If a friend comes to me and asks for shelter, I will take her in; if someone came to my neighbour and asked for shelter, I would hope my neighbour would do the same — and I would neither complain about my property values nor worry about disturbances of the peace. Emergency House allows all of us to be neighbours and friends to women in need. If we refuse to help these women, we are aiding the abusers.

I am tremendously impressed with the community's support for Emergency House; watching it take shape has made me proud and thankful to live in such a community. If the municipality ignores the strong resolve of most of the county to cater to a few self-interested complainers then we are all the poorer. As the Reeve, I urge you to clarify municipal support for Emergency House, to ensure their building permit is approved, and to assist the builders of Emergency House in every way possible.

Jennifer Paton,
Haliburton

Coaches Meeting

Minden Minor Baseball Association will be holding a coaches meeting on May 5 at the Minden Curling Club at 7 p.m.

Annual banquet wraps up Minor Hockey season

by Jerry Grozelle

"It's great to dream," says retired National Hockey League defenseman Ron Stackhouse. "But you have to temper those dreams with reality."

That was his message to about 200 minor hockey players.

Stackhouse, who owns Halco Electronics and teaches at the high school in Haliburton, was the guest speaker at the annual Minor Hockey Banquet in Minden on April 17. He stressed the importance of having something else to fall back on because of the slim chance anyone has of making it to the NHL.

"How many guys from across Ontario get drafted by the NHL each year?" he questioned.

The prospects aren't promising, but that's no reason to give up the dream.

He says he knew lots of guys he played hockey against and with, who were every bit as good as he was. But they got left behind for one reason or another, while he realized his dream.

"I guess the scouts made a wrong turn at Minden," he quipped.

A lot of luck is involved in "making it" to the NHL. In his own case, Stackhouse admits that it wasn't just his talent and determination that got him to the big league.

"I happened to be in the right place at the right time," he said.

In a career that is traditionally littered with pitfalls, Stackhouse succeeded where others who were equally capable failed. Trades and injuries to other players opened doors for the West Guilford native.

He said he earned his stripes at "Tag Alder Gardens," a pond at West Guilford that he and friends used to shovel the snow off to play hockey on the ice.

"Some of the other guys came out and shovelled off the ice and when we were done, they went home," he said. "They were great shovelers, but they never made it to the big league."

Stackhouse said that he hopes he can be some sort of inspiration for young hockey players.

He feels a tremendous sense of accomplishment from his career in the NHL.

"It is a tough lifestyle that requires a lot of determination," he said. "But if a couple of guys from West Guilford can play in the NHL, there's no reason why some of you can't too."

Following Stackhouse's speech, a couple of awards were presented.

The Garth Gammon Memorial Trophy, for "Outstanding Contribution to Minor Hockey," was presented jointly to Sandy Cole and Lonnie Davis.

Scott Gartshore received the Coach of the Year Award for leading the Legion bantam B team to the Tri-County championship.

Gartshore said that the honour was "quite a shock" and that he had a lot of help from Wayne Henderson, Brian Hamilton and Bill Irvine, "who made my job easier."

Each player received an individual trophy as a memento of participation in the minor hockey season.

Skaters, volunteers honoured at annual awards dinner

by Jerry Grozelle

Skaters and volunteers from the Minden Skating Club were honoured for their achievements over the past season at the annual awards dinner on April 17. Close to 100 members, volunteers and club supporters turned out for the awards dinner at the Minden Curling Club.

Following the pot luck dinner, the Skater Development Awards were presented.

Laura Heming presented the first two awards.

The first was for the most improved skater in the Novice 2 and 3 category for the 1993-94 season in the Canskate A class. The recipient was Becky Wallace.

The second award was for the most improved skater in Novice 4 and Proficiency for the season in Canskate B. Cindy Malloy was presented with that award.

Linda Schrader presented the "Peer" Award, to the skater who was most helpful, encouraging and pleasant to other skaters. Jennifer Orpana was the winner of the award.

The Test Achievement Award for 1993-94 was presented to Jasmine Wilson by Bev and Joachim Matysek of Sandy Lane Resort.

Judging for the Gordon Kidd Award was too difficult to narrow down to one recipient this year. The award goes to the most improved intermediate skater. It was narrowed down to two and presented to Tanya Peacock and Jasmine Wilson.

For her perseverance and dedication to the sport, Marita Schrader was presented with the Coaches Award for 1993-94.

VOLUNTEER AWARDS

A few of the volunteers received recognition for their outstanding contributions to the Minden Skating Club over the past year.

Bev Matysek was the recipient of the Eastern Ontario Achievement Award. This award recognizes the unsung hero of skating -- in the spirit of volunteerism, team play and hard work. The nominee could be a skater or a dedicated volunteer who has done exceptional work for the benefit of the club. Matysek fits into the latter category.

The Canskate/Canfigureskate Award is for the eligible instructor who has made the most significant contribution throughout the year. The person may be an adult (over 18) and past nominees are eligible. This year's recipient was Louise Howell.

The CFSA Skater of the Year Award is indicative of a skater who represents spirit, talent, encouragement and help to others. That skater can be male or female between the ages of seven and 12. He or she must have achieved a test level of any one or more of first figure, junior bronze dance or preliminary free, but not greater than second figure, senior bronze dance or junior bronze free.

Each section nominates one skater of the year to the Canadian Figure Skating Association, which honours each section winner on a President's Honour Role at the CFSA annual general meeting. The Section's winner will be presented with an award at the Eastern Ontario Section annual general meeting. The CFSA Skater of the Year Award winner was Krista Matysek.

The Volunteer Award of Excellence was presented to Carolyn Steele. This award is for an adult who: has worked as a volunteer in the Eastern Ontario Section for a period longer than two years; is recognized as having helped children, club, officiating and others; need not be a president or on a Section committee; has done unusual work, possibly behind the scenes.

Each Section winner receives an Award of Excellence and one of the winners is selected by the CFSA as the Volunteer of the Year. That award is presented at the CFSA annual general meeting.

Linda Schrader was the winner of the Club Award. This award is presented to the volunteer whose efforts have led to increased membership or improvements in a club. Other criteria are the same as the Volunteer Award of Excellence (as outlined above).

Schrader's efforts were also recognized as the top in the Eastern Ontario Section. She has been invited to the EOS general meeting in Kingston next month to receive that award.

Volunteer awards: The volunteer work of these five people was appreciated by the Minden Skating Club. The club said thanks by presenting special awards to (L to R) Linda Schrader, Louise Howell, Krista Matysek, Bev Matysek and Carolyn Steele.

Time to start digging

Submitted

Calling all gardeners! It's time to rake, dig, plant seeds, etc. Hopefully the snow has had its fling for another season.

At the time of writing, there is still plenty of ice on the lakes, but the sun (when we have it) grows warmer. Yes, with these sunny days we get the urge to plan what to plant where. It is also a time to give our house plants a treat of new earth and a boost.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society got off to a big start at the big pot luck supper and annual meeting in February. Our guest speaker, Michelle Chambers, was excellent and told us about her experiences gardening in the far north. An interesting topic which was so very well presented.

The 1994 officers were installed by District 4 Director Beryl Harris. They included: past president Jean Robson; president, Ila Cooper; first vice, Verne Graham; second vice, Barbara Ballantyne; secretary, Lynn Hancock; treasurer, Gail LaBerge.

Directors include: Gwen Cox, Muriel Green, Irene Fuhr, Annie Kernohan, Jean Cox, Pauline Plooard and May Stevenson. Various committees have been formed and they are already busy.

For a few years now we have not had a junior leader. Anne Neave has come forward to fill this vacancy. So, it's "Calling all juniors", 5 to 16 years of age. Junior membership is just $1. The juniors will meet on the third Monday of each month at 6 p.m. at Ila Cooper's home. For information, call Anne at 286-2634 or Ila Cooper at 286-1164.

Clare Warren made a beautiful quilt block and it will be put together with dozens of other blocks to be made into a quilt. Tickets are being sold for a raffle to be held at the OHA convention in June.

Jean Cox has provided us with an excellent banner depicting our society's flower, the water lily — very well done. Evelyn Trepanier heads our town planting for this year and the various members will take care of the flower beds.

The society is definitely interested in helping with walking paths, through the swamp, on the municipal property adjoining the museum.

Jean Robson will manage the planting program for the new perennial flower bed at Hyland Crest.

Our society will host the residents' tea party at Hyland Crest on May 5.

Barb Ballantyne has oodles of membership cards. The cost is only $3. The money greatly assists our endeavors, so please join us. Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month in the common room of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. The next meeting is scheduled for May 3 when we will hear from a young and vibrant speaker, Heather Donaldson, a recent graduate of Niagara Parks School of Horticulture. She will bring pictures and has so much to tell us. Once again, there will be draws and refreshments.

The District 4 Annual Spring Seminar will be held in Minden at Our Lady of Fatima Church Hall on Saturday, April 30 at 9 a.m. This event attracts people from communities between here and Lake Ontario. A great day is planned. The Ontario Convention will be held in St. Catharines at Brock University, June 10-12.

by John Huke, Somerville Reeve

Fire protection against the loss of property and life is one of the most important services the Township can supply to its taxpayers. Unfortunately it is not recognized by either Queen's Park or Ottawa as being worthy of funding. The entire cost is from the property tax dollars, unlike roads and welfare.

I recall some 30 years ago when the siren sounded in rural areas, everyone in town responded to assist with those appointed to generally be the volunteer fire department. We now have what are known as a part-time firemen since they receive a stipend or honourarium. They must undergo hours of training; which is ongoing as new equipment and procedures mandated by upper tier levels of government keep being introduced.

Bunker suits must be worn before a firefighter can enter a burning building. The suits cost about $1,000 each. In the case of Somerville Township, by 1995 we would spend in excess of $60,000 if we were to supply a suit to each firefighter. Very shortly, we will probably be forced to acquire breathing apparatus at more capital cost. We very often hear around coffee tables that most of these great ideas are designed for downtown Toronto. True as it might be, the life of one of our part-time firemen is just as important and we must never lose sight of the human risk involved.

We must, as municipal politicians working with our part-time firepeople, lobby our MP and MPP to change the manner in which this very important service is funded.

The municipalities can no longer continue to keep up with the many changes being downloaded by Ottawa and Queen's Park.

Branch election slated for May 4

by Dave McAdam

Here at Legion Branch 636, we are looking forward to an interesting May General Meeting. This will happen on May 4 when our voting members will again elect a new Executive Committee from within our ranks. It is important that eligible members entitled to vote be there. It is also your privilege to participate in the decision making of the branch by voting for people of your choice to serve as chairmen of the various committees responsible for our administration and activities.

In previous columns we mentioned an item of memorabilia generously donated by Comrades Ruth and Anthony Samarillo to our branch. This item is a copy of The Daily Mail and Empire newspaper dated November 11, 1918 and it details the cessation of hostilities of WWI. It is interesting and may be viewed beside our fireplace in the lower lounge. We soon hope to have some further WWI memorabilia from Comrades Al and John Cooper. Al's father, Col. Henry Sloan Cooper distinguished himself in WWI having been awarded the Military Cross and Bar. He was also made a member of The Order of the British Empire. His picture, medals and sword will be appropriately displayed in our lounge by our curator, Comrade Art Jones. The Times is looking into a possible article on his life for a future issue. He is a distinguished Canadian.

On April 29, four members expect to be attending District F's Annual Convention at Branch 43, Oshawa, along with our Zone Commander Sally Bonner. There, we expect to be hearing from Comrade Ross Patterson, Past President of Ontario Command and now a member of the Dominion Executive Council. He is in charge of preparations in honour of Canada's participation in D-Day landings 50th anniversary and 50-year anniversary events celebrating V.E. and V.J Days. These events are starting in June 1994 and running through to November 11, 1995 in various communities across Canada. We expect to be participating in these events in Minden also, but in what form has not been decided. Some of our vets expect to be attending services, tours and ceremonies on the landing beaches, battle zones and Canadian cemeteries in France, Belgium and Holland in 1994 and 1995.

Curator Art Jones has requested that anyone with WWII rogues gallery photos of individuals in uniform, units, groups or military equipment be donated to 636 for use in photo frames and display in our lounges.

Comrade Ross Codlin is planning some social events but as yet has not been able to set dates for them. A draw will be held in due course to raise funds for the Minden Hospital building fund. We are beginning to collect items for our annual yard sale on July 2. If you have saleable items of no further use to you, it would be appreciated if they could be dropped off at the branch for use in the yard sale.

Two of our members, Comrades Helen Johnson and Sharon Sykes are still in hospital. We are looking for better health and better times ahead for both of you. Please get well soon as we miss your smiling faces at the branch.

Friday evening darts under Comrade Larry McKenzie and monthly Trivia Night evenings (every third Wednesday) are still being enjoyed by many. You are most welcome to come out for a fun time to them. Euchre every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. also continues.

The 636 Senior Group is planning a trip to Exhibition Place on Wednesday April 27 for a Medieval Show — charging knights, etc., a hearty Bill of Fare of chicken, ribs, etc. cast in a medieval setting. Cost of $60 includes transportation, dinner and show, all taxes and gratuities. Should you wish to join the group on this trip call Leanna 286-3269, Harold 286-2692, Bill 286-3055 or Peter 286-6225. Don't wait to call and do enjoy.

O'Reilly opposes 'killer cards'

John O'Reilly, Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton, enthusiastically supported the draft legislation against "Serial Killer Cards", proposed by the Justice Minister Alan Rock.

The legislation will prohibit the sale and distribution of materials such as serial killer trading cards in Canada.

"I am pleased that this legislation has finally been introduced," O'Reilly said. "I presented a petition calling for this legislation a few weeks ago, and I also spoke in the House of Commons against the importing of these cards."

A number of MPs have been calling for a ban on allowing "Killer Cards" into Canada, and today's announcement is a culmination of their efforts.

"This legislation once again proves that this government is committed to listening to what Canadians are most concerned about, and clearly, countless Canadians are concerned about the availability of these cards and the violence they represent," O'Reilly concluded.

Police committee seeking community volunteers

by Lewis Stevens

The Minden Community Policing Committee met last Wednesday night, April 20, in the community police building on Main Street in Minden.

Once again, this small group endeavoured, with Constable Ron Buchanan's guidance, to get this committee off the ground and up and running. When we look at the effective member participation in other areas of the county: (Wilberforce - 65 members; Haliburton - 40 members; Gooderham - 15 members; Dorset - 30 members; Stanhope - 15 members); Minden's turnout of 6 looks small indeed.

The community and council have provided the committee with the most efficient building in the whole county for their use. We must now justify the time, money and hard work so freely and willingly given by its donors and supporters.

The preamble of the Minden Community Police Committee constitution reads as follows:

"A community based support group of citizen volunteers committed to the well-being and betterment of the village of Minden and area by supporting local law enforcement officials in maintaining peace, safety, and security within our municipality in accordance with municipal, provincial, and federal law."

So much has changed in the last few years, having an effect on our citizens, young and old, regarding their social, financial and moral lifestyles.

Governments of all levels seem to be down-loading responsibilities and obligations to the local level almost daily. They ask more of us as a community, but provide fewer resources with which to accomplish the tasks.

To get our house back in order, we must do the cleaning ourselves, room by room. We in the county have always enjoyed a reasonable level of safety and security. The O.P.P. has served our area very effectively.

But they need help now! The Provincial Police have been caught in the economie squeeze, like every other provincially funded organization.

If you are between 16 to 75 years old you can be part of this group. Give us a call and let's talk about it!

Call: Lewis Stevens (Chairman), 286-4437 or 286-1819; or Don Stremburg (Vice-Chairman), 286-6826.

Let's show that we have a community which cares. A small effort from you can mean a lot to your neighbour.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday night, April 27, at the Community Policing building on Main Street.

Sign design will be settled through contest

The newly-formed Minden and Area Business Association has now elected its executive directors.

In an election held April 17 at the Red Umbrella Inn, the following individuals were elected to office: chairman, Gary Bloor; co-chairman Rick Tustin; secretary, Dale Merrill; treasurer, France Rochat.

The association can now get to work on its goals for improved signage on Highway 35, with attention to setting consistent business hours being the next project on the agenda. The association has received a positive response from Minden council and hopes to get the same response from other authorities in the effort to erect the signs. The actual game plan of the group is for two signs to be erected on municipal property at both the north and south edges of town. The association hopes that the new signs will attract the attention of travellers on Highway 35 and draw them

M.A.B.A.

The Minden Area Business Association

into downtown. To help create a sign that will be a real eye catcher, the association has announced a sign design contest. The contest is open to everyone, with the following rules and regulations:

- All entries must be on a standard sheet of paper.
- Entries must be original to the entrant.
- Entrants should keep in mind the approved 10 by 12 foot size of the proposed signs.

• The winning entry will become the property of the Minden and Area Business Association.

• Closing date for entries is midnight on May 3.

• Entries are to be placed in the drop slot at Perfect Prints Photo Finishing in the Heritage Plaza on Highway 35.

The association is open to anyone who is a business owner or professional in the Minden area. The group is increasing in numbers and feels confident that, together with the BIA and the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, it can improve the tourist trade throughout the county. The next general meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 4 at the Heritage Plaza. The meeting will be in the board room on the lower level. All those concerned with the business climate in the Minden area are urged to attend.

Dig it!

by June Partridge

Winter genealogical pursuits begin with settling down to writing letters to long, lost relatives and trying to make new contacts by mail after reading queries in one of the many genealogical publications.

Now it is spring and new hopes for contacts arise as we pour over the brochures for upcoming seminars, workshops, family reunions and in this county the beginning of our group meetings for 1994. We meet on the last Wednesday of April, June, September and November at the Minden Library.

Our resource section is constantly growing. Cemetery recordings done by the group over the last few summers are one of the main sources for excitement in the group. We are almost ready to put this information on computer disc.

Money raising efforts were carried out in the last two years with the selling of tickets for a basket laden with handmade articles. Last year's winner was Olga Rome of Minden.

Genealogists seek computers to expand research data base

The money is for the purchase of a computer to enhance our research data base. One of the potential uses could be to hook up with OGS Toronto branch Tiny Tafel matching service through Kintracers. It is possible to send by modem as many as 95 surnames (with variations) with pertinent information for a fee of only $5. This data will be keyed into the main system. All matches found will be returned to you while your information will remain in the system with your name and mailing address to allow for future replies.

While some genealogists will carry on with home research, others will be looking forward to Seminar 94 on June 10, 11 and 12 in North Bay at Canadore College. The keynote speaker will be Dr. Robert Surtees, who will spotlight Ontario Northland Railways. The seminar will have a variety of topics about the railway as well as many other topics to help genealogists further their research with more expertise. The following list shows the variety: Church Records Beyond Birth, Marriage and Death; Gifts to Create with your Research;

Publishing Your Family History and Oral Histories. Registration is taking place now through OGS.

A smaller group will be celebrating the Berczy Settlers of 1794 and the early inhabitants of Markham on the weekend of August 20. This event is a recognition of an early migration from Europe via the U.S.A.

William "Moll" Berczy was a German Entrepreneur who arranged to bring about 220 settlers to the Genesee Valley in New York State. The land deal was not successful and 60 families followed Berczy to Markham after he negotiated for the land with Governor John Graves Simcoe. Many family reunions will be taking place.

The above comments and report of events are meant to stimulate the new and continuing genealogists to further their own research and expand their ideas of how to find that long lost relative. A good place to start is at our local county group where you can share your hopes and gain new ideas for your research. Happy digging!

Hyland Crest workers observe day of mourning

More than a million cases of occupational injuries were reported by the workers compensation boards of Canada for each of the last 10 years.

In 1990, the latest national statistics show there were at least 1,127 occupational deaths. These statistics were only for deaths recognized by WCBs.

The workers of Ontario are part of those statistics.

It is these statistics that caused the Canadian Labour Congress to set April 28 each year as a day of mourning for those killed, injured on the job or who have had their health undermined by work-related illness.

This day is set aside to recognize the sacrifices working Canadians have made to earn a living. It is also a time for people to rededicate themselves to the goal of making their workplace safer and healthier.

Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home is acknowledging this day. All employees will wear a black ribbon on April 28—the national day of mourning.

Hyland Crest hopes others will take a moment on April 28 to honour those disabled or killed on the worksite.

Seminar a breath of air

In November of 1993, the Lung Association, in co-operation with the Haliburton County Home Support Services, presented a short seminar for persons with lung disease.

"Breathe Easy" was well received by those participating. The need for a more extensive program was identified and the association will now oblige.

"Breathe Easy" will be a three-session program held on May 10, 17, and 24 at the Haliburton County Drop-In Centre in Haliburton village. The program will run from 10 a.m. until noon each day.

This program will include videos, information and advice from a respiratory technologist and time for questions. "Breathe Easy" deals with learning to live with Lung Disease. Anyone who suffers from emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma, or other lung problems will gain much information.

To register call Haliburton Home Support Services at 1-800-567-2941 or the Lung Association at 324-6497.

Only 10 weeks left to cram in activities

Dav fra Danmark!

Well, I must apologize for the fact I haven't written since January, but I've been absolutely, incredibly busy here.

The last thing I wrote about was a trip to England. I had two weeks to relax at school and then took off to Norway with the Efterskole, where I lived first, for a ski trip. We took the ferry up to Norway and skied for one week. Weather couldn't have been much better (-10 C) with almost two metres of snow... and on Wednesday, we received 30 cm more! This was wonderful, and going off course was so fun. I mean, you couldn't have had more fun falling over and getting stuck in snow up to your waist or just going around in awe of the beautiful sights.

I even tried night skiing for the first time in my life — which was really fun and exciting. There was racing and moguls in the half dark, and everyone who was out was having a great time.

On the way home from Norway, I stopped in the most northern town of Denmark, called Skagen (pronounced Skan). I had a four-day visit of the beautiful, exciting area and the chance to see the North Sea meet in two different currents with Kattegat. Apparently Skagen is a very touristy area, and people just flood there from Sweden, Norway, England and Germany during the summer.

On February 27, I moved to my third (and last) host family. They are quite a bit different from my first two and remind me very much of my own parents.

I have five sisters between the ages of 16 and 22, but only two live at home. The two who live at home are 17 and 19. Camilla, 17, is the youngest of Erik's daughters, and Pia, 19, is the eldest daughter of Kirsten. Susanne, 21, is living in Aarhus studying law at the university, and Mette, 22, is living in Kobenhavn with her boyfriend.

Unfortunately, my sisters go to school in Holstebro (20 km north of Ulfborg) while I go to Kingkoberg (20 km south of Ulfborg). Although we don't go to school together, that means we just have to be out lots together.

I have nothing negative to say (other than one year is not enough time to do everything). My exchange is 100 per cent brilliant, wonderful, exciting, incredible, amazing, fantastic...

Day from Denmark

by Meaghan Obee

The whole family is just so wonderful, kind and fun.

March 11, I took the train over to Odense to visit Signe Mandrup's (1993-94 exchange student in Minden) parents. We saw the Andersens' house, Brants Art Gallery and all the "touristy" things there. It was a really fun weekend and it will be nice to come home and meet Signe, already knowing how her house looks and who her parents are.

My class and I left for France three weeks ago for our class trip. We went to a place called Tours, which is about 100 km south of Paris. Our tour was to see all of the beautiful "Chateaux de la Loire" (castles) and to visit a typical French school. Here I had the chance to brush up on my French and meet a Rotary exchange student from Manitoba. It was quite exceptional that with a school of 3,000 students, it was him next in the lunch line.

The tour was absolutely incredible. The weather was warm (15 C), the sun shone and we all were happy to be off of school. I also had a chance to get to know my class so much better than I ever could at school. It is amazing what eight days always together can do.

France is an absolutely beautiful country. The landscape is fabulous, flowers are incredible (even in March) and people are just so friendly. In spite of the stories about French people hating tourists, we found them always very friendly, patient and co-operative.

When I got home, all of my family was visiting for the week's holidays Denmark has for Easter. We had a really good time for the week, being no less than 11 people at the table at one time.

Debora, an exchange student from New York, was also over from Vejle to visit me for four days. She and I and 44 others are going on a tour around Europe together in May, so the tension mounted the more we talked about it.

So, there is a quick summary of these few past weeks. I have 70 days (10 weeks) left today until I come home, and I am trying to do everything I want to before the time runs out. The Europe tour previously mentioned is from May 13 to June 1 and we will be covering nine countries. This is sure to be a really fun month.

Everything here is going well. Just like the first six months, I have nothing negative to say (other and one year is not enough time to do everything). My exchange is 100 per cent brilliant, wonderful, exciting, incredible, amazing, fantastic and fabulous. I don't think words can describe the amazing experience.

Kidd Kountry band dishes up some lively sounds

Saturday afternoon we had a real treat. Gord Kidd brought all his equipment for his band and played his guitar and sang for us. Thank you Gord. Later Estella Burch came and read to us, since she could not come in on Sunday.

On Sunday evening we had chapel service with Rev. John Burgess. Louise Leonard played the organ for us. Thank you John and Louise.

Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Easy Living Clothing Store was here. They had a good selection of clothing.

Tuesday morning we had chapel service with Pastor Fast. Thank you Pastor Fast. In the afternoon we had crafts. We made a wreath from pussy willow branches and decorated some wreaths with dried flowers.

In the evening we played cards with Corinne Arsenault in the Tuck Shop. There is much better lighting in the Tuck Shop than in the dining room.

Wednesday Linda Fry and Doris Robertson went to a seminar in Lindsay, so we had very little activity that day.

In the evening Sid

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

and Earl Cooper came and played music for us. Thank you Sid and Earl.

Thursday's tea party was held by the Haliburton Anglican Church women. These ladies were: Florence Webb, Gwen Hughes, Eileen Morrison, Mavis Burk and Myra Scholtes played the piano for us. We had a delicious tea and a good turn out. We thank them sincerely. In the evening we played bingo with Kathy Woods as the caller. Thank you Kathy.

Friday morning was cooking class led by Liz Alrutz. We made chicken wings, salad and fried rice with muffins and maple syrup for dessert. Thanks to Doris for the maple syrup. The dinner was delicious. Thanks to all who helped prepare it.

In the afternoon we had happy hour. For the entertainment we had Mike Biagi, Frank Faulkner and Bertha Hughes, with Doris Robertson on the piano. The volunteers were Bonnie Fullan, Mary Guillemmin, Pearl Cowen, Dottie Muirhead, with Ellen and Don Holden tending bar.

Thanks to everyone who helped make this another enjoyable afternoon.

NATURAL FARMING

Farmers in conflict with nature

Yoshikazu Kawaguchi lives in Nara Prefecture, Japan, where he practises natural farming, a radical departure from the highly mechanized, large-scale agriculture of Japan and North America.

Natural farming eschews chemical fertilizers and pesticides and refrains from tilling the soil. He told me: "natural farming attempts to follow nature. We don't try to make nature do what we want. We don't know everything so we must live within nature."

The land lets you live; the seasons give you the food from the land."

He recognizes that humans are no longer hunter-gatherers living by the dictates of nature. The very acts of collecting seeds and planting them, whether by mimicking nature by casting them on the ground or by using large machines and chemicals, are deliberate acts.

"I cut plants competing too much with my crops" he says without apology. "I select seeds too. I am a farmer, not a gatherer." But he begins from an understanding that categories such as weed, pest, good or bad are human definitions, not meaningful biological classes.

We don't know all of the constituents of soil, air or water, nor do we understand how they interact or maintain the earth's productivity and resilience.

Thus, one must begin with respect for the 3.5 billion years during which life evolved without human intervention. Protection of the integrity of the soil ecosystem and the air and water that nourish it, is uppermost in the priorities of a natural farmer because as long as they are maintained, so is human life. "We have to go along with nature, never try to impose our formula."

But farming in Japan as in North America, has changed from what it was. "Enjoying nature is not part of mainstream farming. It has become when there is a monoculture and we spray chemicals*

Reflections

by David Suzuki

an enterprise designed only to make a lot of money. Farmers are removed from the philosophy of raising life. It's become totally scientific. So they are surrounded by nature but they are also removed from it at the same time."

For Kawaguchi, science has been a major cause of this change: "Scientific western thinking puts man and nature in conflict. It says nature can't do it properly without man. In natural farming, humans are seen to be a part of nature. We don't see insects and weeds as enemies."

"The yield is smaller with natural farming but the food is real, it has more life. It's not artificially pumped up. You need less of it to live. The ideal situation is that you grow what you eat, that you eat what is grown in your area."

"Human knowledge is so limited. So real human knowledge must achieve a kind of satori (enlightenment). What science can find is part of something, but just a part . . . Each organism has a wide range of activities, so you can't just pull out one function, there are many more organisms than science knows and each one is complete in its existence and part of a totality. So to find just one wonderful function of one organism and bring it into the field is just disrupting the harmony of the field."

"Every life form is based on so many elements that they can't be reduced to one or two. For example, we notice how wonderful earthworms are. But can we raise lots of earthworms and put them in the field? What's important is a good environment in which earthworms survive. It's the same with organic farming. They notice the wonder of organic fertilizer. That is good, but it is the environment which makes this approach good. So whether we put extra earthworms, or spiders or good insects, that doesn't work . . . The thing is to trust life and let it live in the natural world."

"In a natural system, deadly mutations don't break out. It happens when there is a monoculture and we spray chemicals. The explanation is quite simple. It's a matter of strength of rice, not just one plant or individual, but the entire ecosystem of the field."

"The scientific and technological society has been developed, but life is worsening. Yet the mainstream is still blind and rushing along. It's certain this civilization has to collapse."

"Within this troubled world, a new civilization is already beginning. The new civilization that is sprouting is based on the value of life and chooses to live in harmony with the earth."

"We have to get rid of our obsession with death. We must let nature do its work and trust the body. When a crisis happens, we have to respond. We take a narrow view, but we have to be calm. We must accept our mortality, but do not give in to death by disease. By accepting death, this is the only way to accept life. If we try to escape death we are actually denying life. That state works against all life. By accepting death, then you can live. So when we are ill with disease, we must accept that but not give in."

We would do well to study the philosophy of natural farming.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Sorry about the mistake last week - it seems that Esther Graham was the person who made the top for the museum log cabin quilt and donated the batts and lining with Muriel Bird doing some of the sewing. The quilt was finished by the skillful hands of Eleanor Bunker and tickets will be sold for the Museum Fund. Thanks to all who participated in this project.

April 17, there was a "300" bowling tournament at Carnarvon Lanes. For the "A" 300 and over flat, for this season, the high single went to Eric Burk with 257 and the high triple went to Ken Thompson with 698. In the "B" series, 300 with handicap for the season, the high single went to Marilyn Robinson with 256 and the high triple to Len Punt with 698. Bowlers from all the leagues at Carnarvon Lanes participated.

Congratulations to Ethel and Roy Kemohan who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home.

Julie and Meighan Woolfrey of Bridgenorth spent last weekend with Bob and Audrey Vick. Audrey is getting along well after knee surgery and last weekend her sister Blanche and hubby Clark Miller from Perkinsfield and Dale Vick and son Tyler from Vandorf also visited.

Winners at Club 35 euchre games on April 18 included, for most lone hands, Nancy Madill who also took the 50/50 draw, Helen Windsor. Cliff Woolner, Jean Scadden, Steve Fortais and Mary Reesor. Special awards went to Jean Hewitt and Bill Matthews. The next Wheels to Meals dinner will be April 26 at 12 noon. Phone 489-3016 if interested.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Pauline Neville and Len Hamilton whose funerals were last week.

Audrey Northey and her son Paul have just returned home from the Church of Jesus Christ Conference in Independence, Missouri. 40 countries were represented among the 10,000 people who attended the event and the theme was "Dedicated to the Pursuit of Peace."

Winners at the Legion Minden Branch 636 euchre games on April 14 were Marg McAfee and Frank Sargent with most lone hands, Ida Young and Jim Bradbury with the high scores and Ellen Holden, Bill Kleinschmidt, Tony Kenneth, Deborah Fielder and Bill Kleinschmidt. The April 21 winners were May Bradbury and Jack Chilton for most lone hands, Verna McDonald and Sharon Brown with the highs, Helen Lee, Bill Kleinschmidt, Mary Wilson, Ida Young, Roy McDonald, Elli Langpohl and Ellen Holden.

Happy to have a visit with his mother Dorothy McElwain recently was Trent from Pickering.

Some people who have been reported as under the weather: Helen Johnson, Norah Briggs, Clarence McInerney, Wes Baker, Mary Guillemin, Audrey Vick and Wayne Anderson - may you all get well soon.

Birthday celebrants at Hyland Crest for May include the ladies, Lucille Clark on May 8, Beatrice Britain and Alice Rivers of May 21, Jean Taylor on May 22, and Corinne Bonneville on May 27. The gentlemen are Michael Cain on May 1, Lorne Fry on May 22 and Marshall Harrison on May 29. May you all have a pleasant time on your special day.

The Monday afternoon card group at St. Paul's Anglican Church enjoyed a great pot luck lunch on April 18 then on to the euchre games. The winners for that day included KT Parker with most lone hands, Iris Taylor, Hilda Harrison and myself. I was also lucky enough to win the draw. Next week the games will take place at the regular time of 1:30 pm. and everyone is welcome.

The Library Staff will be busy in Minden Branch next week with the book exchange. We noted many new mysteries (my kind) are available thanks to the generous donation of our local Rotary Club. New children's books are also available thanks to the Kinettes. How nice to see our service clubs who support so many worthy causes add to the enjoyment of so many by these donations.

Minden Legion Seniors group euchre game winners for April 19 included Delilah F. with most lone hands, Iris Taylor, Georgina Parkes and Marie Dennie. Games are held every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. with everyone welcome.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my family and friends for their care and concern extended to me and Art during my stay in hospital and since my return home. Thanks for your prayers, visits, cards and fruit baskets. I appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Jean Marsh.

The family of the late Bob Nangle want to thank all their friends and neighbours for the care and concern we have received over Bob's long illness. The Stanhope Fire fighters, V.O.N. and Homemaker services were tremendous. The outpouring of community spirit when Bob died was overwhelming and a wonderful tribute to him and great memories for all of us. Special mention to the Stanhope Fire Department and their wives and other ladies in the community and the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home and the many donations sent to various charities. A very special thank you to all.

Barbara, Glenn and Barbara-Dale.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest appreciation and a sincere thank you to the many patrons of The Chipwagon, Kinmount for the support they have given us over the past fourteen years. I should also like to wish Gerard Ramsay, the new owner, the same success my husband and I enjoyed. Thanks again.

Anne Todd.
